

Annual Typhoid And Diphtheria Clinics Will Begin Monday; Dates Set For 'Well Baby' Conferences

It is time for the annual summer typhoid and diphtheria clinics which are held in every community of Coffee County every other year.

Until the time comes when every family has the proper sanitary facilities and a protected water supply it will be necessary for the people to protect themselves against typhoid fever artificially by taking "shots." Every person two years of age and over should have this protection.

In order that more people may be reached it has been necessary to organize lay committees in each community to work in co-operation with Health Department personnel and to inform the people about the clinics.

The following are the centers in which clinics will be started next week. Others will be scheduled soon.

If there are other communities north and west of Pea River in which a sufficient number of people want the clinic held, consideration will be given to this request.

If addressed to the Health Department now before further plans are made.

During August, similar clinics will be held south and east of Pea River.

The second Well Baby Conference was held in Elba June 18th at the office of the County Health Department in the court house. Seven babies were in attendance.

These conferences are conducted by local physicians and are designed to help mothers keep their babies well and developing properly. No sick babies are allowed at the baby conferences. If your baby has a cold, fever, diarrhea or any kind of a rash, you should keep it at home and have your family physician call.

During the hot summer months food becomes more difficult to digest as well as to preserve and it frequently becomes necessary to change the kind of food for the baby.

These periodic health examinations help to find evidence of defects before a serious condition has had time to develop. Every baby should be weighed monthly so as to make sure that it is gaining and growing normally.

Babies from the age of two months to all women and young people. Pastors are urged to be present.

PLAY GROUND IS MOVED TO CITY SCHOOL GROUND

The play ground formerly located on Simmons Street near the old Presbyterian Church has been moved to the City school grounds and is now located in the pine grove back of the elementary school building.

The Three In One Study Club has recently installed twelve swings, two see-saws, one slide for the kiddies and a large sand box. Volley ball courts have been laid out and plans are being made for tennis courts on the grounds.

Miss Eunice Graham, county supervisor, invites and urges the use of the play ground by every child in Elba. Four leaders are on duty every day to look after the youngsters while they are at play.

MISS BRUNSON ATTENDS STUDENT CONFERENCE

Miss Marjorie Brunson, of Elba High School, represented Coffee County at the seventh annual student career conference which met at Alabama College June 26-29.

Recommended by their principals as outstanding students, many high school juniors and seniors were invited by the State College for Women at Montevallo to attend the student career conference, where for three days packed with activity and fun they met with women leaders from many walks of life who discussed their vocational problems with them in order to help these girls pick the type of employment for which they are best suited.

Miss Rochelle Reid, director of the College Vocational Advisory Service, planned this year's conference. Miss Helen Shell of Chicago was the conference leader and principal speaker. Assisting them were more than 50 distinguished Alabama women who have achieved success in their professions—which ranged from woman dentist to newspaper reporter.

Besides the round table discussions with these women leaders, the girls were entertained at a garden party by President and Mrs. A. F. Harman, went on a picnic to the College Camp House, had informal "spinal" parties in the College pool, and saw movies.

Especially arranged for them by Alabama College.

MAKES FINE BEAN CROP

Mr. O. Q. Johnson, Elba Route 1, has made an unusually fine bean crop this year, according to the samples he sent to The Clipper Tuesday. Mr. Johnson tells about his beans in a note in which he says:

"Am sending a sample of beans I have this year. Some think because we have the bean beetle here that we can't raise beans but that is a mistake. We use plenty of Derris. Have three rows 35 yards long. There are five in our family and we have had all we wanted to eat, canned 80 quarts and sold 30 pounds. I used 6-8-4 fertilizer. They are the large white variety and are 10 inches long."

A CORRECTION

In the news article last week The Clipper stated that descendants of Thomas Jefferson Whitman gathered for the reunion at Pine Level. This was an error and we should have said descendants of James Melton Whitman. We regret the error in names and gladly make the correction.

MOVES TO NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes moved to their new home on the Brantley highway last week. The home, recently completed, is one of the newest additions to that section and is thoroughly modern. It is located just north of the Armory and is very attractive.

CLIPPER FOUNDER DIES

Many Elbians will regret to learn of the death of Hon. A. R. Powell, prominent lawyer and citizen of Andalusia, which occurred at his home on Saturday, June 22. He had been in ill health for two or three years.

Mr. Powell was one of the founders of The Clipper and together with the late Malcolm S. Carnichael edited and operated the paper for a number of years. That was forty-three years ago, the paper having been established on June 17, 1897. In time, Mr. Powell sold his interest to Mr. Carnichael and returned to his native home, Andalusia, where he engaged in law practice and other pursuits.

The present editor and owner of The Clipper start his new paper career under the Powell and Carnichael partnership, serving as apprentice, serving under them. Our connection continued after Mr. Powell's withdrawal from the paper, but his friendship and advice were guiding influences in our early business ventures. Our heart was made and Monday when we read of his passing, we were aware last week and did not know of his death, and extend sympathy to the members of his family.

Joe Jones, editor of The Covington News, paid this tribute to Mr. Powell last week: "Truly one of the landmarks of Andalusia is gone in the passing of A. R. Powell, one of Alabama's most gifted and brilliant lawyers. Although a stroke left him almost helpless a few years ago, he never ceased to be a source of inspiration to his active life and was a vital force."

"A. R. Powell was a close friend of our father, the late Dick Jones, and we have always looked upon him as a sort of second father. When quite young we would ask him for a nickel as quick as we would our own father."

"The hundreds of people who came into contact with Mr. Powell will miss his genial and friendly smile and his interest in inquiries about those whom he knew and loved."

"We join his innumerable friends in their deep sorrow as his passing."

WAR TAKES MORE THAN GUNS

The transition from a peacetime to a wartime economy, which has been discussed in these columns last week, will involve something more than the stimulation of aircraft production, more guns, etc. We must not only prepare ourselves in a material way for any eventuality, but prepare our minds and wills to face new and more stringent conditions of life.

We don't want to appear hard, but lack of sufficient aircraft is not the only reason for the military disasters suffered by France and Britain. Behind that is the lack of a super-conscience of their own ability, under-ratting their enemy, satisfaction with the military status of 22 years ago, unwillingness of people and rulers to make sacrifices, and the utter disregard of facts that they should and did know.

There is little difference in us. Our President has told us that we can prepare for war without sacrificing our living standards. But fundamentally that is our trouble. We don't want to give up anything. Labor unions are unwilling to modify wage and hour standards. Business wants more profits. We raise a howl when compulsory military training is mentioned. We want the strongest fighting force in the world but we don't want to sacrifice anything else to get them.

A small thing, but German women gave up cosmetics years back.

This easy-going softness of the American people must be purged if we want to avoid the fate of France, and the other defeated European nations.

Irish potatoes, Break 'o' day and Margarine tomatoes, stringless green pea beans, Kentucky Wonder and Alabama No. 1 pole beans, carrots, truckers' Favorite and Honey June corn, Kirby Stay Green and Straight 8 cucumbers, Mrs. J. T. Capps, Birmingham.

THE COST OF DEFENSE? WHAT DOES IT MATTER?

By J. A. TIMMERMAN, Pastor Elba Baptist Church

"The Fifth Column" is made up of spies and propagandists and saboteurs abroad within the United States. Not all fifth columnists are foreigners, but many ignorant, misinformed Americans are a part of it.

The fifth column seeks to bring about the defeat of the American people.

Well, many of these people are going to be surprised. Before our preparedness program is finished, they'll read and hear figures that will shock them at the cost of war.

Admiral Stark recently proposed to a Congressional Committee that the United States begin at once to build the greatest navy ever known to man. And he mentioned four billion dollars in addition to the other billions already voted, as a second starter. Of course, there shall be needed many more billions before the program is completed.

Hitler boasts that he spent thirty billion dollars on his war machine. While our army is still in the process of being built, we have already spent $500,000,000.00 to protect this wealth, it is good business. And those fellows who are always figuring the cost of everything will agree to this, if convinced it is the only alternative.

We have before us today the terrible plight of France and Britain. A victorious Hitler stands ready to march into the ruins of these two Empires. But a defeated Hitler would be powerless. That is the difference between a victor and a defeated. Just as the victor has the power to destroy, so the defeated has the power to be destroyed.

There is here a priceless heritage, as was with France and Britain, that is worth all the money in the world and much more besides. It is the heritage that we, a free people, enjoy under our Constitution. We must take that away from us, and there will have descended upon this land a dark age of misery and despair.

The Allies today daily acknowledge their plight as a result of the unbelieveable neglect of a pitiful agent, M. J. P. Capps. Devotion to duty was conducted by Mrs. T. D. Ricks.

Subject for the meeting was bringing various vegetables and fruits and was presented by Mrs. J. T. Capps, bringing leader. After a full discussion on bringing by Mrs. Capps and Miss Kelley, the meeting for May dress making was held. Twelve dresses were on display. Mrs. Nola Bailey, Mrs. Mattie Taylor, Mrs. Alma Bowden and Mrs. J. T. Capps served as judges. The club had three dresses to be on exhibit at the County Rally in July. Mrs. Runk Spurlin, Miss Ethel Helms and Mrs. Willie Taylor are the winners.

After these (tena were disposed of, the recreation leader led the women in games and jokes. Everybody had a good time and they received good help from both subjects.

Mrs. T. D. Ricks reported having ripe tomatoes on June 19th.

U. S. to Test Combat Army in All Phases

Maneuvers Will Be Held in Texas and Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS—Plans for the most extensive war games in the peacetime history of the nation are being worked out.

A staff officer here is making arrangements for the first concentration of the entire United States Third Army of 70,000 men in a month-long series of maneuvers.

The "background" already mapped is a large area of west-central Louisiana and a smaller section of east Texas, the two sections divided by the Sabine river.

Adj. Gen. Raymond H. Fleming of the Louisiana national guard, who has co-operated extensively with the war department in mapping the maneuvers, says that the 70,000-man force will be divided into two main groups.

HARTFORD, Conn.—Imagine Meteorologist Henry E. Hathaway's forecast of the weather for the day of the hearing was so accurate. He had been told that the dog's forecast was faster than the bureau's.

The heart pumps "blood" through the veins and arteries of the model, changing from red to blue color and back to red again, same as it would in human body.
